The Campania Teatro Festival Italia is at its first year and is a result of the collaboration between the Fondazione Campania dei Festival, the Teatro di San Carlo, the Soprintendenza Speciale per i Beni Archeologici di Napoli e Pompei, the Commissario Delegato per l'Area Archeologica di Napoli e Pompei and some of the historic summer festivals of the Campania region. In July 2009, the Fondazione and the Teatro di San Carlo had already carried out in the Arena Flegrea, in Naples, the Festival d'Oltremare: lyrical operas, concerts and ballets have lived up twelve days of representations, for over twenty thousand spectators. In 2010 the summer programming will involve important centres of the regional area: Pompeii, San Leucio, Paestum, all very important venues of the touristic, cultural and artistic summer events in Campania. Thanks to the participation of the Nuova Opera Festival, Leuciana Festival and to the Paestum Festival the programme will feature – inside extraordinary sites – lyrical shows, as well as symphonic concerts and original choreographies, one of which will be Le Sacre du Printemps by Ismael Ivo, a first time coproductive experience between these regional festivals. The Campania Teatro Festival Italia will premiere on June 23rd with a concert of Beethoven's Symphony No. 9 in D minor, and will proceed in Caserta and Benevento thanks to the collaboration with Settembre al Borgo and Benevento Città Spettacolo.
